

ABELL, Bob

Born: c. 1949, England.

Bob was based in Wembley, London, and was a regular second half rider at Wimbledon in 1971. He had started riding the previous winter and spent the majority of his early training sessions at Eastbourne with the likes of Malcolm Ballard and Bobby McNeil. He was highly rated by the 'Dons' management and made his debut in Division One against Halifax at Plough Lane, but made just one other appearance for the club. He was unable to make the grade with Wimbledon and was surprisingly not taken on by a Second Division club.
