

ADLINGTON, Michael John (Mick)

Born: December 2, 1956, Hackney, London, England.

A protégé of former Boston rider, Vic Cross, Mick had second half outings at Boston in 1975 without making the team and appeared only once in league racing, ironically against the Lincolnshire side, for Canterbury in 1977. He scored one point from his three rides during the meeting which came on October 15 and was runner-up in the British 350cc grass-track championship the same year. Mick was seriously hurt in a grass track accident at Lydden in Kent only hours after his debut – a crash that caused life threatening injuries.
