

ASHBY, Arthur G.

Born: May 29, 1928, Beckenham, Kent, England.*

Arthur bought a bike from World Champion Barry Briggs to begin his career and was a member of the popular amateur side, Chiswick 'Nomads', who took part in second half challenge matches around the Southern Area League circuits. Often likened to the 1950s singing star Frankie Vaughan, Arthur was unable to break into regular speedway and had his only league outings for Aldershot in 1959, who were promoted by the ex-Chiswick boss Ted Payne. He rode on three occasions for the 'Shots' with his top score coming with two points from three rides at Yarmouth.
