

BRADLEY, Edwin (Ed)Born: circa 1900

Ed was one of a party of riders that tried to establish the sport in Egypt in the winter of 1928/29 and returned to Britain the following year to ride for Leicester Super. Although the club did not enter the English Dirt-Track League that year, they did compete in the Knock-Out Cup and were drawn against city rivals, Leicester. Ed rode in both legs of the tie but The Super were eliminated and these were to be his only official appearances.
