

BREWER, John (Satan)

A grass track rider from Worcestershire, John took the nickname of 'Satan' and turned to speedway in 1961 with second half rides at Stoke and Wolverhampton. Some of his displays in those early meetings had him marked down as a hot prospect and he duly made his debut in Stoke colours in June. He rode in back to back matches against Poole and Rayleigh within the space of a week but failed to open his point scoring account. 'Satan' disappeared from the speedway scene soon afterwards.
