

TRACEY, Fred

Born: March 11, 1908, Australia.

A second half rider with Lea Bridge before the war, Fred had reached the veteran stage of his career by the time he made a post-war return in 1948. He joined Coventry and suffered a hand injury in his first meeting but carried on racing regardless in a desperate struggle for points. After continuing for several more meetings it was discovered that the hand was actually broken and, with little prospect of the injury healing quickly, he set sail for his homeland in mid-season. Fred later promoted at the Maribyrnong track in the suburb of Melbourne.
